

ILMAR REINVALD

OILS AND WATERCOLORS

Ilmar is a retired professional architect who lives in Waimea and now paints with North Kohala Plein Air Painters. “The beauty and richness of the Hawaiian landscape is a source of inspiration to me. I seem to discover a new and fresh aspect of this every time I go out to paint. Ilmar’s oils and watercolors are in several art galleries on the Big Island.

Ilmar was introduced to painting in art classes in architecture school. After graduate school, he taught architectural design at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and was the Director of the School of Architecture at Montana State University. He left academia to become a principal of the architecture firm Reed Reinvald in Tacoma, WA from which he retired. During his architectural practice, his firm won many design awards and he was elected to the College of Fellows of the American Institute of Architects.

Ilmar was born in Estonia and immigrated to the United States as a child after World War II. He is a veteran of the United States Air Force.
